

Williams Island - Game, Set, and Upgrade for Security!

Reliable safety - low-maintenance systems - stylishly integrated

Williams Island is a luxury condominium complex on a 34-acre site near Miami, in Aventura, Florida, where celebrities Sophia Loren and Whitney Houston have previously resided. Amenities include a restaurant, 2,500-square-foot spa, fitness and wellness center, Grand Slam tennis center, marina, store, and events club.

Challenge – beat the heat and humidity

The video security cameras have to meet several criteria at once: Being weatherproof in the heat, functioning in humid climate of South Florida, even during the rain season. They also have to meet the «set & forget» requirement, i.e., function reliably and with low maintenance after installation. And last but not least, residents have high standards regarding the design of the cameras, which should blend in with the high-quality surroundings of the residential complex.

The new cameras were installed in the area of tennis courts to prevent unauthorized persons from being there or guests not authorized to play from using the courts. There was no network at the sports facility, which made the installation rather difficult.

Solution - great shape and great performance

MOBOTIX M12 cameras have been installed near the William Island complex and have been providing reliable service for more than seven years. The excellent experience concerning reliability, robustness, and durability led the responsible parties to choose MOBOTIX again. Another plus point for MOBOTIX was the new unconventional and elegant design of the M73, which blended in perfectly with the surroundings of the exclusive residential complex. Thanks to professional execution of the MOBOTIX partner Medium Access Control, the installation was completed within one day.

The M12 and M73 are centrally managed via the MOBOTIX Management Center. The major challenge of bringing the network to the sports venue was overcome via wireless point-to-point. Thanks to the M73 multi-lens cameras, the site can now be reliably monitored day and night, providing better image quality and more coverage.

Conclusion - Maximized ROI with Minimal Staff

Thanks to the expansion of the video system with the M73 high-end cameras, the premises could be secured even more effectively and with less effort for the security staff. Outstanding image quality ensures that unauthorized persons are quickly detected. With the audio function of the cameras they can issue notices if necessary. Thanks to the upgrade in security, tennis fans can fully focus on their match.
